And So . . . . . That's a Hat? The Husband's Battle Cry

Chapeaux, chapeaux and chapeaux . . . Hedda Hopper couldn't be more enthusiastic than the Torrance Women's club members taking part in the hat making classes held every Monday morning at the clubhouse under the capable direction of Mrs. Edward Cornelius.

NIGHTINGALE ON HOME DUTY

When Mrs. John Birmingham chose her vocation to become a Florence Nightingale and dutifully studied to get her registered nurse's degree, she never realized that her knowledge would prove to be for her own pleasure rather than a glowing career . . . for on Nov. 13 she became the mother of twin sons to be added to her family of four youngsters.

Once Over Lightly

Beginning today, Dorothy Downing, well-known fashion authority and Pacific News Service columnist, will bring you the highlights of her current cross-country fashion tour. For the second time this year, Miss Downing will visit over twenty major cities to publicize our California apparel industry. In addition to style notes, you will enjoy her light-hearted account of the experiences that one can encounter through being part of that world called "fashion."—Ed.

Nov. 14—(14,000 Feet Over Oregon) Catch hold of your chapeau, girls! Here we go again! There's one thing to be said in favor of the fashion publicity field—it's never monotonous. If last spring's pilgrimage can serve as a barometer, it's a cinch that this one should be a "real ball."

Thus, I have embarked on another seven-week safari of the United States to tell all who will listen about our truly worthy California Apparel Industry. As our mighty DC-6 thunders northward into the jet blackness of night, my thoughts tumble back to a group of college coeds I was talking to yesterday morning. It seems they were all thinking of entering some phase of the fashion field, many into the verbiage of fashion design, others into the inevitable question regarding qualifications came up. I remember that they seemed astounded when I didn't dive into the usual education and experience routine.

I asked them not to misunderstand, that I am the first to know, I go giddy-headed when I meet one of those salty old-timers who has several hundred years "in the market" behind him. But I still maintain that these are inconsequential. All I see it in the Northland.

Scandinavian Cookies Make Decorative Holiday Treat

With three daughters in the house who entertain often and filling the position of wife of the minister of the First Methodist Church, Mrs. John Taylor, of 1551 El Prado, has specialized in tasty desserts. She, of course, is active in the Women's Society of the church and a good cookie recipe is almost a necessity. Her three daughters are, Kathleen 11, Marilyn 9, and Virginia 7. Here Mrs. Taylor reveals her prize recipe for favorite cookies.

- SCANDINAVIAN JELLY COOKIES 1/2 pound of shortening (oil or butter) 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed. 1/4 tsp. salt. 2 eggs, separated 2 cups ground nut meats 2 cups flour Cream sugar, shortening; add egg yolks, then add flour and salt. Work well with hands; roll into small balls. Beat egg whites until frothy. Roll balls in egg white, then in ground nutmeats. Place on cookie sheet. Press hole with thumb in cookie. Bake at 300 degrees for 30 minutes. When cookies have been in oven for 15 minutes take out and make indentation again. Return to oven and finish baking. Cool slightly and dot with tart red jelly and mint jelly
